

Chinese Government Graduate Student Overseas Study Program(CSC: 国家建设高水平大学公派研究生)

The Graduate School of Science, the Graduate School of Mathematics, and the Graduate School of Systems Life Sciences accept Chinese students under the Chinese Government Graduate Student Overseas Study Program sponsored by the Chinese Government through the China Scholarship Council (CSC) in the following two types.

Acceptance Type	Summary	Tuition, etc.
1. Degree-seeking doctoral research student	Those who have passed the entrance examination for the doctoral program for CSC applicants in one of the graduate schools mentioned above have been admitted to the program to obtain a doctoral degree .	Only the tuition fee is not collected. The application fee and enrollment fee are subject to collection. However, there is an exemption or deferment system for the enrollment fee.
2. Jointly trained doctoral research students	Those who have applied to special research students to one of the graduate schools mentioned above have been approved for acceptance and focus on research activities without the aim of obtaining a degree .	No application fee, enrollment fee, or tuition fee.

Please refer to the following for the selection schedule, and be sure to read and follow the application guidelines for dates and other details.

Schedule	1. Degree-seeking doctoral research student	2. Jointly trained doctoral research students
	- Contact the faculty advisor of your choice before submitting the application.
December	- Online system registration for the Beijing office - Submit the application documents for the graduate school admission
January	- Admission screening
February	- Announcement of acceptance → Receipt of acceptance letter	Late February - Online system registration for the Beijing office - Submit the application form for special research student
March	- Application to CSC
April		- Receipt of Letter of Acceptance
		- Application to CSC
~July	- Submit the CSC-issued certificate of acceptance to the Student Support Section
October	- Admission

(Reference) Beijing Office Contact E-mail: beijing@overseas.kyushu-u.ac.jp